Institutional and Financial Assistance Information for Students

The terms and conditions under which students receive Federal Direct Loans are outlined in the information given to a student when they visit the school.

The procedure for which students apply for financial aid is to make an appointment with the school's Financial Aid Director. At that time, all required forms will be made available to the student.

The criteria for selecting financial aid recipients from the group of eligible applicants is governed by the United States Department of Education and the school follows those regulations.

The method by which the financial aid disbursements are made to students and the frequency of those disbursements varies by program. Students should see the school's Financial Aid Director for specific information as it relates to their circumstances.

Information on the terms of loans, sample repayment schedule and necessity for repaying loans is distributed to students during their first visit to the school and then reinforced during orientation.

The school does not provide any employment to students.

Exit counseling is done on an individual basis during the last week of the student's attendance.

Students who wish to withdraw from a program must make an appointment to meet with the school's President or Financial Aid Director.

Students who wish to review the school's accreditation, licensure or other approvals should make an appointment with the school's President.

Students who have disabilities are required to meet with the school's President to determine what services and facilities are available to the student. The age of the building prevents the school from being totally accessible to wheelchairs and some other physical disabilities.

The person designated to assist enrolled or prospective students in obtaining financial aid information, school information, information on completion or graduation rates and school security policies and crime statistics is the school's Admissions Director. This name can be found in the school's online catalog.

The school does not have any program of study abroad.

The entire program is offered at and by the Lancaster School of Cosmetology. No portion of the program is offered by another entity.

Unauthorized distribution of copyrighted material, including unauthorized peer-to-peer file sharing, may subject students to civil and criminal liabilities. The penalties for Federal copyright laws can be found at www.copyright.gov. Students do not have access to the school's information technology system so they cannot do peer-to-peer file sharing or distribute copyrighted material via that method.

FEDERAL MANDATORY MINIMUMS

This list includes all federal (not state) sentencing laws that require the judge to give the offender a mandatory minimum prison term. Laws that require the judge to impose only a minimum fine or period of supervised release are not included in this list. The crimes charged most frequently today (i.e., drug crimes, gun offenses) are presented first, followed by statutes that are used less frequently. This list includes only the laws in effect as of August 6, 2012.
